

We have had a great time already this term, learning about the Anglo Saxons, the earth and beyond, designing parachutes for our work on forces and exploring the work of Andy Warhol and Orla Kiely to create our own printed art pieces.

We really enjoyed our work during the International Days, especially the Language Lab – we practised speaking, listening and writing in Spanish, Mandarin, German and Danish, visiting different classrooms for our learning.

In PSHE, we have been learning about staying safe online and what we should and should not share. Ask us about 'Zip it! Block it! Flag It!'

In English, we collaborated online to produce a group report about wolves and took part in a class debate about the benefits and disadvantages of reintroducing wolves to the UK – we found out that we are very good at expressing our opinions!

Computing this term has included looking at how computer systems work to help us in our everyday lives and we are now learning about video editing. So far, we have explored how messages can be communicated through media, practised using different camera angles and thought about how important audio will be to our finished pieces. We are in the planning stage now to film and produce our own informative videos!

In DT, we have been investigating movement in toys to learn about cams and are looking forward to making our own moving Christmas scenes. We are also looking forward to the panto!
